What is SO College?

Special Olympics College Clubs connect college students and faculty with individuals with intellectual disabilities. A SO College Club functions as a club that is fully recognized by your campus. SO College Clubs help to create a more inclusive community that gives athletes from Special Olympics Georgia (SOGA), college students, and faculty the opportunity to get to know each other and develop a greater respect for one another.

How to get your campus involved:

- Form a Special Olympics Club & build a management team
- Sign up to volunteer with us, and bring a group out to help at our local or state games
- Organize Unified Sports competitions on your campus where SOGA athletes can compete alongside college students
- Invite athletes to your school's athletic competitions or to compete against each other during a half time show, or throw the first pitch at a baseball game
- Host an invitational or a coaches clinic on your campus for one of our 26 SOGA sports.
- Organize a Respect Campaign
- The sky is the limit!

How to Apply:

Join in on the excitement and help spread the message of inclusion for all! To apply and to explore additional resources check out the SO College tab on our website:
